Committee Agrees To Collins Center Pact

By Lisa A. Boudreau

After four months of investigation and scrutiny into the management of the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, the School Committee and Andover Endowment for the Arts have agreed on conditions for a five-year, annually renewable contract.

Following a two-hour discussion of contract conditions, the Committee, which is responsible for the facility, voted 3-2 to approve the majority of its investigating sub-committee's recommendations as to what should be included in the AEA contract for managing the Collins Center.

The sub-committee was established after a June 6, 1989, School Committee meeting discussion of a AEA proposed memorandum of agreement for managing Collins Center. At that meeting, audience members voiced concerns over the lack of accessibility to the Collins Center under the AEA management, and the $100,000-plus paid annually to Artistic Productions Inc., which runs the center on a day-to-day basis.

The sub-committee's charge was to advise on how well the Collins Center functioned as a high school auditorium, a theater for community groups and a theater for professional productions, under current AEA management. In addition, the sub-committee was to critique the memorandum of understanding proposed by the AEA and make recommendations for a formal contract.

The AEA is a non-profit corporation, whose board of trustees oversees the running of the facility and employs an outside contractor, Artistic Productions Inc., to present professional productions at the auditorium and run daily operations.

Committee members Susan Poore and Andy Salazar, the chairman of the investigating sub-committee, cast the dissenting votes, naming the exclusion of two of the sub-committee's recommendations as their reasons. The AEA refused to accept School Committee ownership of all auditorium equipment, and a $5,000 rental fee to be paid by the AEA to the Committee.

"In the end, I did feel that payment of some kind should be paid (to the School Committee)," said Mrs. Poore.

Controversial Projects Face Zoning Board Tonight

By Frank Messina

One of the busiest, if not controversial Zoning Board of Appeals agendas in recent years has moved tonight's meeting to the Memorial Hall Library.

Three special permit applications, two involving local country clubs and one concerning a proposed self-storage facility are expected to pack the second-floor hall for a 6:30 p.m. hearing.

The board will be asked whether the Andover Country Club, a private golf club, can open their restaurant to the public — five months after the ZBA turned them down on the same issue.

Angered by Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo's decision to allow Trumpeter's restaurant to serve the public, the club's Canterbury Street neighbors filed a petition with the ZBA in May.

They complained that restaurant traffic posed a safety hazard, and that a public restaurant in a residential neighborhood violates town zoning bylaws.

The ZBA agreed, ordering owner Yvon Cormier to stop newspaper and magazine ads and halt accepting reservations or serving meals to anyone but club members and their guests.

Through attorney Gerald Cohen, Mr. Cormier is appealing the decision in court. In the meantime, he is asking the ZBA for a special permit to resume doing business with the community at large.

This time, Mr. Cormier, who is also Andover's largest land developer, is adding a twist by proposing the construction of another access road to Trumpeter's off Beacon Street. The new street would open to a largely undeveloped area

Selectmen Delay Decision On Trader Rick's

By Frank Messina

A divided Board of Selectmen will wait two more weeks before deciding whether to suspend the liquor license of a downtown restaurant.

In a Monday night hearing that sometimes more resembled a courtroom, the board heard conflicting evidence over whether Trader Rick's restaurant, 63 Park St., asked four underage Merrimack College students for identification before serving them alcohol last August.

After defeating, 3-2, a motion to simply issue a letter of warning, the board delayed to Oct. 16 a vote to suspend the restaurant's liquor license. The board could ban Trader Rick's from selling alcohol for up to 14 days.

Just three weeks ago, the board voted to send a warning letter to the restaurant for an earlier incident involving an underage employee found drinking after closing.

"I find it difficult...to send two letters of warning" within a month, said Selectman Gerald Silverman.

Car Owners Can Improve Air Quality

In support of National Car Care Month, the American Lung Association is offering car owners a brochure containing helpful information for improving the air we breathe.

"The Car Care and Clean Air" brochure points out that auto and truck emissions account for approximately 60 percent of the carbon monoxide, more than one-quarter of the hydrocarbons and one-third of the nitrogen oxides in the nation's air.

Automobile usage in the United States has increased three-fold and the use of commercial vehicles four-fold in the last three decades, according to the Lung Association.

"This increase has resulted in higher levels of motor vehicle-related air pollutants in many parts of the country," said Joseph F. Sweeney, president of the American Lung Association of Essex County.

The brochure, produced by the American Lung Association in cooperation with the American Automobile Association and the Manufacturers of Emission Controls Association, describes the health effect of auto and truck emissions and provides recommendations on maintaining cars to keep pollution at a minimum.

It also warns motorists against tampering with their emission control equipment and fuel switching (using leaded gas when their cars call for unleaded).

Copies of the brochure can be obtained from the American Lung Association of Essex County, 239 Newburyport Turnpike, Topsfield.

Paper Honored

John Slipkowski of 55 Farnum Ave., North Andover, a professor at Merrimack College and vice president of publicity for the North Shore chapter of the National Association of Accountants, is the recipient of the Bill Fox Award.

The award is given to the chapter that submitted the best manuscript among the 20 chapters that make up the Northeast Regional Council.

The manuscript, "Accounting: The New French Revolution," traced the new monetary system in Europe through the '90s. The chapter's president, Moe Labine, accepted the award at the council meeting in Marlboro.

TOWN HOUSE TOPICS

Town Seeks To Protect Owners Of Private Wells

The Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture is working with local boards of health to implement regulations designed to protect private drinking water wells from herbicides used on rights of way.

Under the regulations, the use of herbicides on rights of way will be prohibited within 50 feet of private drinking water wells and restricted within a buffer zone extending to 100 feet, said Everett Penney Jr., Andover's director of public health.

To gain protection, people using drinking water wells located within 100 feet of a right of way must post the location of their wells at the edge of the right of way and notify the local health board of their well's location so it can be mapped and provided to herbicide applicators.

Contact Mr. Penney for further information.

ULowell Student Admits To Andover Burglary

By Frank Messina

A 20-year-old ULowell student confessed to breaking into an Andover home after police charged him with burglarizing a Tewksbury home on his way home from school.

Michael D. Lava, of 144 Derby Road in Melrose, confessed to robbing an Andover home on Sept. 27, Andover police said.

"I guess it shows he's smart, but not too smart," said Andover Detective Kevin Burke.

The suspected burglar was spotted on Sept. 28 leaving a Tewksbury residence by several neighbors, who followed him until they were able to flag down a passing police cruiser.

"(The neighbors) saw him walking down the driveway of a home he obviously didn't belong to," said Mr. Burke.

Tewksbury police took Mr. Lava into custody, finding jewelry and a checkbook stolen from the Andover home in the suspect's car, said Mr.

Burke.

Two checks totaling $3,500 were found made out to Mr. Lava, the detective said.

The ULowell student confessed to burglaries in both towns, Mr. Burke said.

Mr. Lava will be charged with receiving stolen property by Tewksbury authorities. Andover police will ask for a conviction for larceny over $250. Mr. Lava is currently free on bail, said Mr. Burke.

The Andover burglary was one in a series of break-ins reported on the same block on Sept. 27. Starting at 3:20 p.m., three homes on Lowell Street reported burglaries to the Andover police station.

Mr. Burke said no evidence has been found connecting Mr. Lava to the other two break-ins.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Lava declined to comment on the charges, saying he was in a hurry to go to school.

Oct. 8-15 Proclaimed Fire Prevention Week

Gov. Michael S. Dukakis has proclaimed Oct. 8-15 as Fire Prevention Week in Massachusetts. The Andover Fire Department urges you to take a few minutes this week to ensure your family is fire-safe all year long.

- Test and clean smoke detectors
- Change the batteries at least once a year.
- Plan and practice a home escape plan so the family will know how to react.
- Teach children to bring matches and lighters to adults because they are tools for adults. Keep them out of reach.
- Have children practice stop, drop and roll and crawl low in smoke.
- Prepare for the winter heating season by having the chimney swept and furnace serviced.
- Remove hazards from your home, such as old cans of paint and paint thinner, rags, old newspapers and other "collectible combustibles."

It is illegal and unsafe to store any amount of gasoline inside the home.

National Fire Prevention Week commemorates the Great Chicago Fire of 1871, in which 250 people were killed, 100,000 left homeless and more than 17,400 buildings destroyed.

Because Massachusetts was the site of the Coconut Grove fire in 1942 which killed 492 people, the citizens and fire service of this state have a unique dedication to the preservation of life and property from fire.

Call the fire department headquarters with any questions on where to place smoke detectors in the home, planning home escape plans or on home fire hazards.

Jewish Exhibit Open

An exhibit of Lowell's historic Jewish community is now being showcased at the Patrick J. Mogan Center in the restored Boott Mill boarding house at 40 French St. in Lowell. The exhibit called, "The Hale-Howard: A Kleyne Shtetl" (Little Village); is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through the end of November.

90 Employers To Attend Job Fair At Andover Hotel

Job Fair '89 will be held at the Sheraton Andover Hotel and Conference Center on Wednesday, Nov. 1, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The fair attracts thousands of job-seekers annually. This year 90 employers are expected to attend.

"It may be against the trend in other parts of the state, but many companies in our area are hiring," said Laurence R. Smith, executive vice president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Smith said he expects several thousand job applicants to attend.

"Every year around this time we get telephone calls from companies that want to participate," said Mr. Smith, "and from high school and college job placement offices, non-profit job training centers and individuals all asking about the job fair. You can almost set your watch by it."

The chamber has helped launch five job fairs in the last five years. An estimated 20,000 job-seekers have explored local employment opportunities at the event. More than 500 companies have participated. The other co-sponsors of the fair are the Lower Merrimack Valley Private Industry Council, the Greater Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, the Essex North Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Massachusetts Department of Employment and Training and

Women To Discuss Juggling Home, Career

How to separate one's job from one's home and do right by both is still the major dilemma facing women in business today.

Of 29 responses to a request for "personal challenges" from members of the Greater Lawrence Women's Network last month, 18 dealt in some way with the difficulty of juggling traditional roles as wife, mother, lover and general caretaker with the time commitments of a career.

How to live through adolescence and stay sane; how to spend quality time with family and stop thinking about work; how to juggle work and homemaking responsibilities; how to deal with an elderly parent; how to find day care; how to live with a dying spouse; how to manage guilt; how to cut down on stress; how to find time for me and how to relax are some of the topics which will be informally explored at the Thursday, Oct. 12, breakfast meeting of The Women's Network at the Andover Country Club at 7:30 a.m.

The program, chaired by attorney Marcia Damon-Rey and Helen Shadallah, a self-described semi-retiree from Raytheon and community activist, will allow members and guests to air their grievances and make suggestions in a round-table format.

If there is a continuing interest, the YWCA will sponsor a full-day seminar on time management and related issues.

"Perhaps just knowing that your friends in the network are experiencing the same problems may be helpful. One thing we are good at is providing support for one another," said Joslyn S. Converse, a spokesman for the YWCA.

Reserve your place by calling the YWCA in Lawrence.

Garden Club

Donates $2,000 To AVIS

The Andover Garden Club recently fulfilled its commitment to one of the major purposes set in its bylaws, "to aid in the protection and conservation of natural resources," by contributing $2,000 to the Andover Village Improvement Society toward the purchase of a 20-acre parcel of land between West Parish Church and Andover High School.

Eighteen of these acres will become part of the 66-acre Baker's Meadow Reservation beside Reservation Road. The West Parish open field will connect the west end of the Baker's Meadow loop trail to the recently constructed AVIS boardwalk over the bogs behind the high school. The trail connects with the 23-acre Indian Ridge Reservation along the ridge.

AVIS was founded almost 100 years ago and now holds 1,000 acres of Andover land in its natural state for the enjoyment of all Andover citizens. There are nearly 20 AVIS reservations, all with walking trails and a local garden to oversee the land.

Anyone in the Andover area interested in supporting open spaces, conservation and passive recreation outdoors is welcome to join AVIS. For further information, contact President Nathaniel B. Smith, P.O. Box 297, Andover.

Historic Landscapes Explored

By Virginia Lopez Begg

Since the early days of historic preservation in the mid-19th century when Mount Vernon was snatched from the jaws of destruction, American preservationists have concentrated on buildings and their interiors.

Now, however, historians are beginning to take a much closer look at the landscape surrounding historic buildings.

In line with this developing interest, the Andover Historical Society will host a workshop on "Museums and the Historic Landscape" on Monday, Nov. 6, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The workshop, co-sponsored by the New England Museum Association, will be conducted by Shary Page Berg, a landscape preservation consultant. She holds a master's degree in landscape architecture from Harvard's Graduate School of Design. Local homeowners and others interested in local history, garden history or landscape design are welcome. A fee is charged and registration information is available through the Andover Historical Society.

The workshop will begin with an overview of styles and periods in the history of the American landscape and discuss various research sources. Most sources are original records in town offices, libraries and historical societies.

Once the information is collected, the landscape historian faces the task of planning and maintaining the newly restored landscape. One of the thorniest issues is, of course, the problem that many historic buildings have lost much, or even all, of the land surrounding them, making "restoration" difficult. The workshop will address all these issues.

Following lunch, Ms. Berg will use the grounds of the Andover Historical Society's Amos Blanchard and Barn Museum as a case study for actual problems. Participants will experience a hands-on lesson in landscape preservation issues.

Garlands Among Renaissance Fair Crafts

Hair garlands are available for sale at the 11th annual King Richard's Faire.

The garlands are among the many crafts that will be available at the fair, located in South Carver. The artistry of handmade crafts of a bygone era will be relived this fall at King Richard's Faire in South Carver. The faire, running for its 11th season through Oct. 22, is a reenactment of a bustling European marketplace during a Renaissance festival.

All of the vitality, creativity and self-expression that characterized the Renaissance come alive in the work of King Richard's artisans.

Craftsmen from across the country will converge on King Richard's Faire this fall. Their talents will supply an eclectic treasure-trove of Renaissance handicrafts including jewelry, ceramics, leatherwork, stained and beveled glass, paintings, hand-woven baskets, toys, furniture and clothing.

Costumed in fashion of the period and speaking in 16th-century English dialect,

Coloring Contest Aids March of Dimes

Attention all kids under 14. Sanrio Inc., the creator of "Hello Kitty," is sponsoring a national coloring contest called "Color a Brighter Future for America's Children" to benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

The grand prize, a trip to Japan for eight days and seven nights, will be awarded to the winning child and his or her family. There are 600 other prizes. Winners will be chosen from four categories: 5 and younger, 6-9, 10-12 and 13-14. Selections will be based on neatness, use of color and overall artistic/creative effect of entries.

The contest will end Oct. 31. To receive a coloring sheet with contest rules and entry form, contact Kelly MacLean at the March of Dimes headquarters in Dedham.

Parents can support March of Dimes programs to help babies get a healthy start in life by sending an optional donation with the entry.

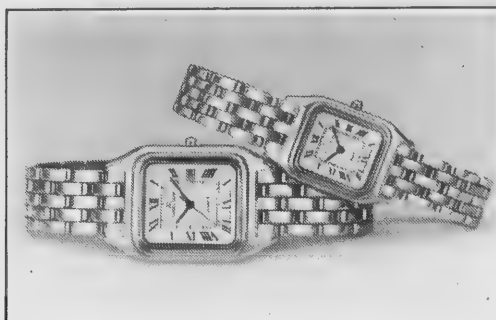

the merchants do far more than hawk their wares. They actively demonstrate their craft, encouraging on-lookers to participate. From candlemaking and brass rubbings to pottery and face painting, guests can try their hands at a variety of authentic Renaissance crafts under the guidance of trained artists.

While some guests are intrigued by watching a burly craftsman forge weapons of the period, others may be amused by adorning themselves in an array of fancy headgear or helping a dressmaker dye clothes in huge oak vats.

Authenticity is central to the concept of King Richard's Faire, said organizers. Renaissance is re-created with as much attention to detail as possible — and the artisan's crafts are no exception. Before vendors are invited to display their wares, they must submit samples of their work, proving that both the process and materials used adhere to 16th-century standards.

Visitors can sample the richness of Renaissance craftsmanship every weekend through Oct. 22 and Columbus Day, Oct. 9. The permanent site is located on Route 58 in South Carver. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

THE SPINE

From front to back the spine should be straight up and down.

A side view of the normal spine should show four curves — two curves to the front and two to the back.

An auto accident, a severe fall or injury can cause these vertebrae to become subluxated causing pressure on the spinal nerves. Every organ in the body has a nerve supply and any time these nerves are pinched by misaligned vertebrae they can cause various discomforts — headaches, back or neck tension, shoulder pain, etc.

That leads us to ask:

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC AND HOW CAN IT HELP?

Chiropractic Care is a Drugless Natural Way to Good Health!

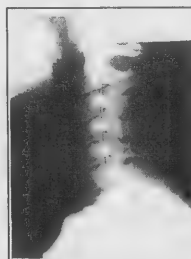

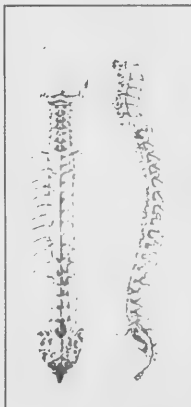

Discovered by D. D. Palmer in 1895, chiropractic today is widely recognized as a primary health care system and is included within the Medicare and Medicaid programs along with 640 insurance companies.

Many people think that chiropractic deals only with back problems — this is a misconception which we would like to explain. CHIROPRACTIC deals with the spinal column and the spinal cord which carries all the vital nerves of the entire body. The science of Chiropractic is founded on the premise that adequate nerve supply is of prime importance in regulating body function. Chiropractors use this scientific principle to maintain health and to correct the cause of disease. The soundness of its basic principle is documented by countless sufferers restored to good health by Chiropractic care.

There is no way that we can tell you all about Chiropractic care in a few short paragraphs — but a short visit to our office and we can answer any questions that you may have.

Recycling Saves $44,256

By Virginia Cole

A total of 1,629 tons of residential waste, newspaper, glass and plastic were recycled by Andover in fiscal 1989 (July to July).

A $64 per ton tipping fee for this material (if picked up by the regular trash contractor) would have cost the town $104,256. Since Andover Recycling is subsidized by the town at $60,000, this represents a net savings to the town of $44,256 for this last year alone.

Andover Recycling feels it is time to move on to curbside pick-up of glass, plastic and cans as well as newspaper. Our estimate of this cost is $160,000.

If only 25 percent of the total residential tonnage (3,085 tons of 12,341 tons last year) was recycled, this 25 percent would cost the town $197,456. This means $160,000 for a recycling pick-up would provide a net savings to the town of $37,456.

There are estimates that a composting plan would cost the town an initial $30,000 and then save many dollars in tipping fees every year thereafter.

These figures have been presented to the town manager, selectmen and planning department. Andover Recycling is ready to give the program back to the town and help in further efforts to recycle more tons per month and save more dollars.

Principal Honored At National Level

Richard E. Neal, principal at North Andover Middle School and a former Andover School Committee member, was one of 52 school administrators recognized as Principal of the Year by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and chosen to attend the Burger King Corporation "In Honor of Excellence" education symposium in Washington, D.C. Oct. 25 to 29.

The criteria used to elect the principals included dedication to improving education and encouragement of community involvement in the schools.

Mr. Neal, an educator for 32 years, was voted the 1989 Outstanding Principal by the Massachusetts Middle Level School Administrators Association and won the 1988 Derek Bok Award for Community Service from Harvard University. His school was identified as a state leadership site for school improvement council. "There's an urgent need to coordinate an integrated approach leading to educational improvement across the Commonwealth and the nation," said Mr. Neal. "We must promote a mutually beneficial alliance among education, business and government."

Public/private partnerships is the main topic of the sixth annual Burger King Corporation "In Honor of Excellence" symposium. This year's theme, "The Education Decade: School, Government and Business — Partners for Excellence" is carried through the series of workshops and seminars.

Those taking part will hear addresses from the Rev. Jesse Jackson, U.S. Secretary of Labor Elizabeth Dole and NBC's Tom Brokaw and will form discussion groups to develop key messages to the Secretary of Education and American business leaders.

Heart Health Workshop

A workshop called "Promoting Cardiovascular Health" will be held at the south campus of the University of Lowell Thursday, Oct. 19, from 4 to 8:45 p.m. The workshop will feature presentations from Drs. Robert J. Nicolosi and Kathleen Bushnell from ULowell.

For further information, call the Merrimack Valley area health education center at ULowell.

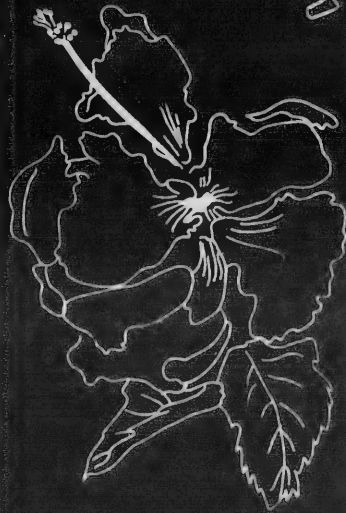

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

No toy, no matter how durable, safe, or educational will be used unless it is fun! Adult attitudes toward toys often affect their play value of children. If a toy is so costly or so fragile that adults become anxious when a child manipulates it, the toy is no longer "fun." If adults insist there is only one correct way to use a toy, it is not longer "fun." Children delight in the unexpected, the unusual, and the absurd when they play. A good toy stimulates the child's curiosity and creativity. And, most importantly, children enjoy sharing their toys with those they love.

EARTHFOOD NEWS

by Glenda McKertich

PECTIN AND WEIGHT LOSS

Pectin is a natural, water soluble fiber that is commonly found in fruits and vegetables. Not only is it associated with reducing the risks of heart disease and diabetes, but it apparently has a subtle effect on the body's metabolism of sugars and fats. A study by the University of Southern California also ties pectin's ability to delay digestion with eating disorders. Specifically, when 15 grains of pectin was added to the daily diets of nine obese people, it was found that their stomachs emptied slower. In addition, the subjects felt satiated more quickly with pectin added to the diet. As a result, they ate less and lost an average of 6.6 pounds over a one month period. Subjects who had no pectin added to their diets lost no weight. The study shows that pectin may aid existing therapy in a controlled weight loss program.

If you're trying to shed a few pounds, pectin might be helpful. It can help you feel satisfied with a smaller portion, and also might help you stretch the time between meals. However, it may also be constipating. Visit THE EARTHFOOD STORE, 24 Park St., behind "old" town hall. Call 475-1234. There's ample parking. We carry vitamins and supplements and natural beauty products as well as healthy groceries. Fresh salads, sandwiches, and baked goods are available. Call 475-1234. There's plenty of parking.

P.S. The ingestion of pectin has been linked with lower blood cholesterol.

Pike Students At Camp

Fifth-graders from the Pike School have not had regular school this week. Instead, these 45 youngsters have been going to camp in New Hampshire.

For more than 10 years, a week at Sargent Camp Environmental Center has been part of the curriculum in the middle school. Everyone in fifth grade participates.

Students and faculty live in cabins and share the experience of group living while they pursue an educational program that builds on what youngsters have learned in their science and geography classes. Their activities include forest walks, star-gazing, orienteering, canoeing and studying wetlands in the field and the lab.

Fifth-graders learn to plan and execute projects under leader guidance.

Students record their scientific observations in journals and will write about and report on their individual and group experiences when they return to school.

Doherty Middle School Open House Discussed

Doherty Middle School's Parent Advisory Council held its first board meeting Sept. 21 to discuss this year's program and plans for Doherty's open house night.

A list of proposed speakers for upcoming monthly meetings was presented and board members offered suggestions for the spring school-sponsored speaker program.

The school's open house will be held Thursday, Oct. 12, at 7 p.m. Plans were finalized with homeroom representatives assigned to aid membership.

Dr. McGrail presented an update on the grade reorganization. Sixth-graders have made a good adjustment, including their participation in special subjects, he said. A new course, achievement workshop, aimed at sharpening study skills, will be offered to seventh- and eighth-graders.

Mr. Maki praised the concept of activity periods for middle schoolers which offer a diversified program of education mixed with fun and practical activities. Courses range from inventions to airplane modeling.

Dr. McGrail discussed the implications of state budget cuts on Doherty. Mr. Maki will assume the position of acting assistant principal and one headmaster position will remain vacant this year.

Board members are Ms. Nieh; Judy Lugus, vice president; Barbara Munroe, treasurer; Jane Cassidy, secretary; and John Hess, Linda Rummel, Betsy Spiegel, Marie Risitano, Kathy Chabot, Bill Putnam, Kathy Walsh, Dee Robb, Ronnie Pisco, Linda Volpe, Anne Hall, Eileen Reilly, Jim Marino, Sandy Parziale and Richard Lennon.

Back To School Night

Doherty Middle School will hold its "back to school" for parents Thursday, Oct. 12, beginning at 7:15 p.m.

Parents will follow a typical day's schedule, but on a much abbreviated basis. The purpose of the program is to get to meet your son's or daughter's teachers and hear a brief description of the various programs, said Principal Richard F. McGrail.

Mr. Cohen argues that an alternate road would answer neighborhood concerns by reducing traffic moving toward a public restaurant.

In another issue, De Moulas Super Markets, Inc., owners of the Indian Ridge Country Club, are planning to enclose an open air dining room and do some interior remodeling.

Some grumbling has been heard from residents who feel the club is trying to expand their dining operations. In past years, representatives of the country club have tried to open the restaurant to the public. One attempt, in 1973, was turned down by the ZBA.

But a De Moulas representative said the company simply wants to renovate the clubhouse as part of an overall plan to upgrade the country club. The club recently completed an extensive revamping of its golf course.

"I don't like the way people have to walk through the bar to go into the dining room," said Michael Kettenbach, De Moulas director of real estate.

"We just need to better serve our members," he said, "that's all it is."

Tonight will mark the third attempt to win approval for development of a 2.8-acre parcel off Frontage Road near Route 93. The latest proposal, a 200-space, self-storage facility, is given a better chance to succeed than previous attempts to use the land for an office complex.

Owned by Jeffrey Sheehy, the office space concept was turned down at Town Meeting in 1985 and 1987, with neighbors expressing concern over traffic and town officials criticizing poor sewer access. It did not miss by much; despite winning endorsement from the Planning Board in 1987, the office plan failed to reach the necessary two-thirds majority by just 30 votes.

At a Planning Board hearing last week, representatives for Mr. Sheehy unveiled a new use for the property that simultaneously keeps the project out of Town Meeting and addresses the problems haunting it in the past.

Trader Rick's

tended that all four students used false ID to purchase drinks on Aug. 7, then three of them hid the bogus documents before police took Daniel Reilly, 20, and Scott Kelley, 19, into custody Aug. 7.

Near midnight, a police patrol spotted the pair running down the middle of Elm Street near midnight, trying to flag a ride. When questioned, they said they had come from Trader Rick's where they and their dates were served drinks without being asked for identification, said Patrolman Brian Patullo.

Police discovered several forms of false ID on Mr. Reilly, but his companion had only a Massachusetts driver's license showing him to be under the legal drinking age.

Later, police would find out that both women were underage. Neither one was found to possess false identification.

Mr. White contended that the students lied about being asked for proof of age at Trader Rick's to escape prosecution for possession of false identification.

"They had real motive," he said, and opportunity. More than an hour passed between the students leaving the restaurant and being apprehended by police, plenty of time to get rid of any false ID, said the lawyer.

But Mr. Barenboim questioned why Mr. Reilly, who led police on a short chase before being caught, still had fake identification, while Mr. Kelley, who gave up without a struggle, did not.

"Even if one out of the four didn't have proper ID, they shouldn't have been served," he said.

Mr. Silverman was worried about the amount of liquor served the two men. Five beers each in two and a half hours is excessive, he said.

"I have great concern over that," said Mr. Silverman.

Selectman Charles Wesson felt "there is a reasonable doubt here... (the students) certainly had plenty of time to get rid of the ID."

Trader Rick's has taken steps to prevent any repeat incidents, said Mr. White.

In addition to buying a $3,000 video tape machine to record customers and their identification, management has also hired a $1,600 per month consultant to make sure restaurant employees ask for ID.

Andover High Thespians Expect Busy Year

By Holly Binda

As the theater students enter another school year at Andover High School, they anticipate every decision of their director, Robert Lague. His reputation in putting together the most dynamic performances, leading one of the finest high school choruses around and chaperoning for the most distant trips still lives on.

Although the school year has just begun, Mr. Lague wastes no time in keeping us on our toes. Madrigal auditions were held Sept. 12 and participants have started rehearsing their ever-so-catchy music pieces. Madrigals is a group of students chosen to sing and dance for special performances.

During the week of Madrigal auditions, Mr. Lague also auditioned for the school's first three-act play, The Crucible. The play will be presented Nov. 17 and 18.

The chorus is planning their annual concert tour. Last year they visited Orlando, Fla., and performed at Disney World and Sea World, but this year Mr. Lague decided to travel even farther — California. Though many students are anxious for their trip to California, some are concerned they might not be able to afford it. To help, Mr. Lague has planned three fund-raising projects.

Mr. Lague has also planned two additional trips; to see the Phantom of the Opera and an overnight to New York City to see the Tony Award and Pulitzer Prize-winning Heidi Chronicles and the Jerome Robbins Broadway. This trip will take place toward the end of January.

As one may already see, the theater students at AHS are chock full of activities and performances, but that is what show business is all about. Remember, our annual talent show will take place Oct. 14 in the Collins Center.

The author is an AHS junior.

Computer Expert To Speak

"Software for Teachers Who Love to Teach" will be the topic of a lecture by Tom Snyder on Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. as part of the Shore Country Day School lecture series. Mr. Snyder is a teacher, author, head designer and founder of Tom Snyder Productions, a software development and publishing company in Cambridge.

The lecture will focus on how the use of software in the classroom can enhance education.

"Software must not require that we reinvent schools or the way teachers teach," Mr. Snyder said. "The best software will give the teacher a central and rewarding role in the education of their students. A successful introduction of computers into schools will see the teacher securely in the loop."

Mr. Snyder taught science and social studies in grades four through eight for 10 years at Shady Hill School. He has written a Practical Guide to Computers in the Classroom and In Search of the Most Amazing Thing. He has designed software products for school and home, including Snooper Troopers, The Other Side, Decisions, Decisions, TimeLiner and National Inspirer.

The lecture is open to the public. Tickets can be bought at the door. The Shore Country Day School, is located at 545 Cabot St., Beverly.

Holocaust Torah To Be Dedicated At Service

At Sabbath Eve Service on Oct. 6, a very special event will take place at Temple Emanuel of Andover — the dedication of a holy torah saved from a synagogue victimized by the Holocaust. This torah is one of 1,564 sacred scrolls gathered in Prague, Czechoslovakia, by Nazi officials from desolated synagogues. It is believed they were originally gathered to be exhibited as relics of a "defunct culture." Other ceremonial objects, books and pictures were collected by the Nazis and many are now in the State Jewish Museum in Prague.

Through the efforts of a prominent British art dealer and philanthropist, the scrolls were acquired in 1963 and shipped to a London synagogue. Each scroll was carefully examined and its condition, age and origin recorded. These torahs were then made available to congregations throughout the world on a "permanent loan" basis. Temple Emanuel is the recipient of one of these.

The torah given to Temple Emanuel bears a brass identification tablet inscribed with number 1110 and is accompanied by a certificate recording its origin, Polna, a town in Czechoslovakia. The small Jewish population of Polna was deported in 1942 to Nazi death camps and the synagogue items of value, including its torah, were confiscated.

The scroll will be displayed in a permanent ark in the foyer of Temple Emanuel along with two torahs previously brought to America from the synagogue in Soberheim, Germany, by the Marum-Stern families. The synagogue was burned by the Nazis on Kristallnacht, Nov. 10, 1938. The ark and its contents will serve as a reminder to future generations of the devastating Holocaust and keep alive the memory of the destroyed Jewish community of Polna as well as all Jewish communities decimated by the Nazis.

Bittersweet End To One Family's Story

Grandmother Hopes 5-year-old Will Break Cycle

Editor's note:

This is the last of a three-part series on how drug use is affecting one Andover family. This week, the series looks at the lives of Dorothy Johnson's family, who asked that their real names not be used, and how they are coping with the aftermath of a drug-related death in their family.

Talking about the drug-related death of her son this summer has helped Dorothy Johnson through the early stages of her grieving. Some people have told her she shouldn't talk about the circumstances surrounding her son's death. These people say she should forget it and move on.

But Mrs. Johnson says she is willing to talk if people are willing to listen and hear what she has to say.

"It (experimenting with drugs) is like playing near a hot stove," she said. "Nothing good can come from it."

"It's devastating to stand back and watch your kid destroy himself," said Mrs. Johnson.

David Johnson, 33, died three months ago of a heroin overdose, following a life-long history of alcohol and drug abuse.

David's history of chemical dependence started and progressed much the same way as did his sister, Lori's, 31. As teen-agers growing up in Littleton, the two began drinking with their friends.

The two were following in the footsteps of their father, who was an alcoholic. Mrs. Johnson divorced the children's father when they were still youngsters, but they were old enough to be deeply affected by their early life, she said.

The family moved to Andover when Mrs. Johnson remarried. David was 18, and had already dropped out of school. Lori was finishing her final year of school at Andover High.

"He was strictly a party boy," Mrs. Johnson said of her son.

Though he experimented with marijuana, Mrs. Johnson believes that David was drug-free up until his late 20s. But his drinking grew steadily worse, she said.

Mrs. Johnson believes both her children's addictions to cocaine started when they entered into relationships with someone who already abused drugs. Lori was a typical young girl, who had a nice job, a nice car and who took care of herself, said Mrs. Johnson. Then seven years ago, she became involved with a man who started her using cocaine, Mrs. Johnson said.

"Jan (David's girlfriend) was a drug addict before he ever met her," said Mrs. Johnson.

For a while, David and his girlfriend lived with Mrs. Johnson in her home. During this time, the rounds of drinking and physical violence increased, she said.

The two left her home when David was facing a possible two-year jail sentence for a second drunk driving offense. They lived in the South for two years until they returned to David's mother's house one year ago. While David was awaiting sentencing, his alcohol and chemical abusive lifestyle continued.

"They'd go out all night and come home at 6:30 in the morning and sleep 'til the middle of the afternoon," she said. "Every time they'd go out the door, I'd say to myself, 'Here we go again.'"

The two-year sentence was reduced to 10 weeks in the Essex County Alternative Correction Center in Lawrence. While David was in jail, his girlfriend worked and saved money. The two were going to move into an apartment of their own and start a new life, said Mrs. Johnson.

David was not out of the Correctional Center more than two days before he returned to his former lifestyle.

"David wanted to change," Mrs. Johnson said. "But, yet, he wasn't strong enough to do it himself and he wouldn't take any help."

The two had saved up more than $1,000 during the time David was in jail. Mrs. Johnson said she approached the couple about their lifestyle and warned them about wasting all the money by going out at night.

What About Our War On Drugs?

By Lisa A. Boudreau

The number of drug-related stories in the media has increased over the past year. Do they accurately portray the drug problems threatening American communities, such as Andover? If these portrayals do hit close to home, what kind of treatment facilities and support groups are available locally to handle the problems?

According to most law enforcement and counseling professionals, drug use in the suburbs is down, while in the inner cities use is escalating at an alarming rate.

"Overall drug use is down from the 70s," said Larry Larsen, Ph.D., who counsels adolescents, and their families coping with chemical dependencies.

The kinds of drugs, either alcohol or other chemical-altering substances, have changed over the last 30 years, say experts. Some marijuana users of the 1960s moved to hallucinogens. In the 1970s through the early 1980s, cocaine was the drug of choice for many upper-middle class people, says Gerald Douglas, Ph.D., a private counselor and member of the Merrimack College counseling staff.

New Gifted Program Reaches Out To All Students

By Lisa A. Boudreau

After a five-year hiatus and a facelift, the gifted and talented program has made a comeback to the Andover School system.

Two weeks ago, amid the controversy of funding hardships, the School Committee voted unanimously to approve the new school-wide enrichment program, as well as $20,807 already in this year's budget for the program.

The program's reintroduction drew criticism from Shelia Eckoff, the local president of the Massachusetts Teachers Association.

"I'm highly concerned with the $570,000 cut from the budget, and along with the awareness of further cuts and decreases in staffing...that we are starting something we can't do," said Mrs. Eckoff.

The program for gifted or talented students existed for 10 years in the Andover elementary schools. The program was disbanded five years ago and slated for review, with a new proposal to be presented and implemented as part of the Committee's Master Plan last year.

Because of time and budget constraints, the new program, along with other Master Plan initiatives, was postponed. During the interim, each of the four elementary schools developed enrichment teams of parents and staff members.

Most of the criticisms of the disbanded program involved its pulling students out of the regular classroom. Some critics claimed this led to elitism and often isolated rather than integrated the gifted students. It also disrupted the regular classroom and added greater amounts of make-up assignments for the programs' students, other critics said.

The new program is designed around three levels of enrichment activities: general exploratory, group training and individual and small group investigations of real problems.

The first two levels are already part of Andover's elementary core curriculum, said Eileen Woods, Sanborn School principal and former director of the Gifted and Talented program in the Reading Public Schools.

They include special speakers and group presentations, Andover's computers in the classroom initiative, Paideia reading and discussion seminars and process writing.

The third level is designed to target the above average to superior student, but will also benefit the other students, through peer and multi-grade level student presentations and information sharing.

"It (the new enrichment program) isn't catering to only a few students at a time," Ms. Woods said.

The new model has been used nationally and internationally very successfully, she said. The timeline for the Andover program will begin this year, with in-service day, teacher training seminars.

These are designed to train language arts, instructional specialists and regular classroom teachers in the new program. The training is designed to help educators identify the talent pool in the elementary schools, targeting the third grade.

Rachel Dwinells of Lawrence entered her dog Molly in the littlest dog competition during the Dogtoberfest on North Andover common. Molly won the competition while Rachel won the heart of the crowd.

Bruna, a 1-year-old rottweiler, eyes a biscuit which Ted Len used to bring the dog through the obstacle course.

Daniell Gray of Methuen puts her dog through some basic routines during the biggest dog competition.

Bob Wedge of Salem, N.H., brushes down Wagner, a purebred German Shepherd, who has been trained in drug detection. Wagner has worked for several local law enforcement agencies.

Dennis Michaud of Methuen gives his dog Hilda a peptalk before entering her in the trained dog competition.

OPINION

Collins Center Contract Represents Fresh Start

After long, summer nights spent in sometimes stifling debate, the final decision on the Collins Center for the Performing Arts came on a refreshingly chill October night.

The School Committee's approval of a five-year contract with the center is a positive step. It means the Andover Endowment for the Arts, which runs the center, and the School Committee, which is responsible for it, can expect a better working relationship.

The contract spells out several issues that have been a source of controversy. For example, it will allow the School Committee to approve fee schedules for community use of the theater. It also provides an appeal process for community groups unhappy with the fees. This is a strong response to the complaint that the performing arts center has not been accessible to the public.

There are several issues, though, that were not settled. It was two of these that led to the School Committee's split, 3-2 vote Tuesday night.

It began last week when the Andover Endowment for the Arts refused to accept recommendations that it turn over all auditorium equipment to the School Committee. It also refused to pay the committee a $5,000 rental fee for the center.

Two School Committee members, Andres Salazar and Susan Poore, refused to agree to the contract without these stipulations.

But the contract was approved. It represents a new beginning for the center and the community.

PUBLIC FORUM

South Needs More Aides

To The School Committee, Superintendent And Parents Of First-graders At South Elementary School:

Despite repeated assurances over the past few months from the School Committee and superintendent that they were closely scrutinizing the pupil-teacher ratio of our first-grade classes at South Elementary School and would develop a plan of action to alleviate overcrowding, the evidence from the Sept. 19 School Committee meeting is sadly lacking.

Many questions concerning the exact composition of the four first-grade classes went unanswered. Variables directly affecting teacher efficacy, such as the number of bilingual students per class, amount of ESL time available to non-English-speaking first-graders, numbers and types of special-needs children within the regular classroom (physically handicapped, speech-language impaired, etc.), were not presented.

What was proposed and accepted by the School Committee was 10 hours of aide time per week (about 30 minutes per day per first-grade class). As a parent of a South School first-grader, I welcome the diversity of bilingual and special-needs children in my child's classroom, but it does a disservice to all 25 to 26 children per class to expect one teacher to meet all their individual and widely varying needs.

South School first-grade parents need to be aware of the mammoth job that lies ahead for our four first-grade teachers this school year with our present enrollment. If we as parents pride ourselves in providing quality education for our first graders, we need to convey strongly our concerns regarding the current pupil-teacher ratio to the School Committee immediately.

The School Committee and superintendent need to do their homework and more carefully analyze the makeup of each first-grade class, including bilingual and special-needs pupils at South and the subsequent teaching demands placed on the staff.

I for one am requesting further discussion of the pupil-teacher ratio issue at South School with additional, more informed proposals made regarding how we can best meet the educational needs of our first-graders.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — October 1889

One of the incandescent lamps used in the street lighting was broken Thursday evening, evidently the work of boys. A heavy penalty is attached to such actions as this, and the Electric Co. promptly offered a reward for the conviction of any such mischief makers.

The October meeting of the Merrimack Valley Congregational Club will be held next Monday evening, at the First Church, in Lowell. Besides a social hour and supper at 6 o'clock, there will be a discussion on "The Christian's Responsibility in Social and Corporate Relations," and among the speakers will be Rev. Emory Haynes of Boston, and Principal Kinley of the Johnson High School. Tickets may be obtained from John N. Cole, and the train will leave Andover at 4:24 p.m.

The Board of Registrars at the meeting Wednesday night added four new names to the Voting List.

Four hundred and twenty-three dogs have been licensed up to date, and Chief of Police Cheever has killed eleven for non-license.

A vault which is probably as secure as human ingenuity can make it is now being set up in the rooms of the new Bank Building. The lining is composed of different plates of hardened steel, put together with steel screws one-inch in diameter, tempered and drill proof, and all the corners are fastened with box angles.

The disappointed ones who failed to obtain good seats at the sale of tickets for the People's Course last Saturday night should remember that there are 240 seats to be sold at 50 cents for the course. That they have a chance, by going somewhat earlier, of obtaining one of the best of the seats, equal to any of the $1 seats — that there are 150 of these tickets yet unsold, and that there will be a large sale of these next Monday night if not sold before. There are also a few 75 cent tickets now on sale with the 50 cent ones at the Andover Bookstore. Any two of the eight excellent evenings arranged are well worth the price of the Course ticket, and there will be no trouble in hearing in any seat in the hall. Every seat should be occupied.

Mr. Francis Cogswell, superintendent of schools in Cambridge, and Mr. Barrel, principal of the Grammar School, were visiting the town schools this week.

Mrs. Stephen Sackson has returned from a visit to Nova Scotia. S.K. Johnson is seriously ill at his home on Main Street.

75 Years Ago — October 1914

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow moved his family this week into the house on Locke Street formerly occupied by Rev. F.A. Wilson.

A democrat wagon belonging to Warren Moor of West Andover was purloined last Monday evening. If the gentleman or men who borrowed the vehicle will return the same, he or they will be suitably rewarded, as Chief Smith is interested in the case.

Bishop Lawrence will visit Christ Church for confirmation on Sunday morning, November 22. Classes in preparation are being held each Tuesday at 4 and 7:45 p.m., in the rector's study in the church building.

The October meeting of the Andover Mothers' Club will be held at the Samuel Jackson school, the second Friday, October 9, instead of the first Friday, as heretofore. The meeting will open at 3:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank R. Shipman and children left this week Wednesday for Atlanta, Georgia. Mrs. Shipman is making a stop over at Philadelphia, where her daughter Mary will enter a fresh-air school in that city.

William G. Brown has given up his butcher cart owing to ill health, but will be pleased to see his former customers at the store of Dana Chase on Park Street, with whom he will be associated.

The game on the playstead tomorrow afternoon between the Thistles, undefeated junior soccer league champions, and the Olympic juniors of Lawrence will be well worth seeing. Neither team has lost a game this year and they are tied for the lead in the league. This is the only soccer game in town and there should be a large attendance.

The first meeting of the Andover Choral society was held in the Archaeology building of Phillips Academy, Tuesday evening, with a gratifying attendance. The society is on its third year and the success of the organization is due to the untiring energy of its conductor, Carl Pflaeticher, director of music in Phillips Academy. It is expected that the society will give two concerts during the 1914-1915 season, and Barnvy's "Rebakah" will be the first work studied, with a performance before Christmas. Should this prove successful, Hayden's "Season," a very beautiful composition, will be taken up for practice and a concert during the commencement season in June.

Abbott Village lodge held a regular meeting in the village hall Monday evening at which there was a good attendance. Chief Templar George Keith presided. A membership contest was arranged which the members have taken hold of with enthusiasm. Under the good of the order there was keen competition and much merriment over a nail-driving contest, which was won by Mrs. Peter Campbell, who accomplished the feat in one minute.

50 Years Ago — October 1939

George Washington hall is very nearly sold out for the performance of Cornelia Otis Skinner for tomorrow night. Already some temporary seats have been sold. In addition to the very heavy public demand, there has been an unusual number of academy boys buying tickets.

Many women in Andover are forming groups to do sewing and knitting for the Red Cross War Relief work. The Red Cross rooms at 3 Main Street will be open from 2 to 6 p.m., on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays to give out materials and instructions, and for those women who wish to sew at the rooms.

The Board of Public Works has been spending considerable time recently on the purchase of new snow plows to be used with the new fleet of trucks. There is a possibility that a different type of plow will be bought than those used in past, one which is curved sufficiently so that it rolls the snow over and off to the side instead of merely butting up against it.

Henry C. Sanborn, superintendent of schools for the past 22 years, under whose administrative leadership Punchard high school, the Junior high and the auditorium-gymnasium were built, on Tuesday night tendered his resignation to the school committee because of illness. The resignation which was accepted with great regret, will take effect on November first. In the meantime Principal Nathan C. Hamblin of the high school will assist Mr. Sanborn. Although nothing has been done definitely about a successor, there is a possibility that Mr. Hamblin may serve as acting superintendent until the end of the school year, thus allowing the committee more time to choose a suitable man for the post.

The superintendent was quite seriously ill several years ago, but had apparently regained much of his previous strength. Only three weeks ago he told the Townsman that he was feeling well and was looking forward to his final three years as superintendent. However, since then he was again taken ill and this prompted his decision.

25 Years Ago — September 1964

"We are simply appalled...people are aghast..."

With these disconnected phrases a resident from the area near to Irvin Hilton's Rt. 125 Texaco station, attempted to describe the neighborhood reaction to the senseless Tuesday slaying of the 44-year-old gasoline station operator.

Hilton was stabbed, then shot six times at approximately 3:40 p.m. Tuesday, the final two shots being fired while he was at the entrance to the station lubricatorium in full view of four witnesses. Police believe the shooting to be the result of an abortive holdup attempt.

The School Building Committee went into its first public information meeting on the proposed senior high school Wednesday with some uncertainty about the final reaction of the School Building Assistance Commission to the plans prepared by architects Perry, Shaw, Hepburn & Dean.

The commission has questioned the committee on its use of a four-floor classroom building, suggesting that at least one floor of this space might possibly be added elsewhere.

Raytheon Co. reported Wednesday that cutbacks at the Andover plant have totaled 350 in the past two weeks, and stated that this figure includes those who will receive notice this week.

This week's layoff is estimated at no more than one sixth of the two month total.

Saying that Raytheon does not want to contribute to the uneasy situation by releasing weekly employment box scores, a representative of the company in Lexington did say that rumor figures that 2,000 are to be laid off here and that 500 would be laid off this Friday are not accurate.

10 Years Ago — October 1979

The new school policy geared toward improving the school climate by regarding appropriate behavior — and punishing those who don't abide by school rules and regulations — is expected to get a second pass by the school committee Tuesday night.

Codes of behavior have been submitted and each school has presented a student privileges program for those who "buy the social contract," as Supt. Kenneth Seifert says.

Friday will be the final day for registration of new voters who wish to participate in the Oct. 15 town meeting.

The Board of Registrars of Voters will be in session at the town house from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Persons registering should bring proof of residence, such as a utility bill, tax bill, in order to facilitate the registration process.

The town will probably not sue the state of money it cost Andover to hold a holiday Monday, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told selectmen Monday.

Mr. Clark said he will probably offer town employees the day with pay, and charge the day against sick pay. Each non-union town employee is entitled to one and a quarter sick days with pay per month.

Mr. Clark said state legislation declared Monday a holiday but did not declare that municipal employees had to be paid for it. Since the $4,000 it will cost to pay employees for Monday will be paid voluntarily, the town would not have a strong case seeking reimbursement from the state, Mr. Clark said.

The manager said he was working out a way to pay town union employees for the day within the terms of the contracts.

La Leche League Meeting

The Andover group of La Leche League of Massachusetts/Vermont will meet Thursday, Oct. 12, at 8 p.m. at the home of Maureen Lyons, 65 Third St., North Andover, to discuss "The family's adjustment to the breastfed baby."

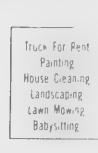

Women of Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and surrounding towns are invited.

This meeting is the second in a series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies, pregnant and other interested women.

For directions and further information, call group leaders Ms. Lyons or Cyndi Given or Lauri Adlman of Andover.

Chuck Mangione Launches Collins Season

Chuck Mangione

Jess Cain Returns to Stage

After nearly a decade, WHDH radio personality Jess Cain returns to the North Shore Music Theatre in Beverly to play Alfred Doolittle, Eliza's hard-drinking, tough-talking father in My Fair Lady. The musical theatre classic is scheduled to be presented Oct. 5 through 28.

Mr. Cain has been featured in nearly a dozen productions since 1968 when he starred with Tom Poston in The Odd Couple.

He was featured in I Do, I Do (1969), Last of the Red Hot Lovers (with Nancy Dussault and Dody Goodman in 1972) and Same Time Next Year (1978). This is Mr. Cain's first appearance since 1981, when he starred in On Golden Pond.

Reserved seats are available at Ticketron outlets and the North Shore Music Theatre box office.

Jess Cain

Chuck Mangione, jazz and pop artist, will launch the seventh season of the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts on Friday at 8 p.m.

Sponsored with a grant from Andover Bank, this "Evening with Chuck Mangione" will feature all of his old favorites as well as music from his new albums.

The son of an Italian-born retail grocer, Mr. Mangione grew up in a family with no musical background. At an early age his father introduced him to Dizzy Gillespie and the beginning of a warm, close relationship was started.

"I regard Dizzy as my musical father," Mr. Mangione said, "and he was a very big influence on my music career."

Mr. Mangione schedules more than 50 performances worldwide each year and enjoys composing in his spare time.

Critics have acclaimed him as a man who has a "love affair with music" and write that his "boundless energy and his unbridled enthusiasm radiate from the stage and energizes the audience."

Tickets for "An Evening with Chuck Mangione" are on sale at the Collins Center box office, Shawsheen Road. Box office hours are Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets are also available at all Ticketron outlets.

Few people know that Mrs. Columbus sent Chris out in search of something sweet to eat that was healthier than all that spamoni she'd been putting away. Fortunately, no sooner had they docked the Nina, etc. when they ran right into some Honey Hill Farms soft frozen yogurt. When Mrs. C. tasted Honey

SPORTING LIFE

Andover Defense Proves Mighty Stingy

By Rick Harrison

After his team had struggled to a 19-6 victory over Andover in the season opener for both schools, Chelmsford High football coach Tom Caito heaved a deep sigh of relief.

"We haven't played anyone else yet, but I can tell you right now that's the second best team in the league," said Caito, motioning in the direction of the Golden Warrior players.

Caito's spur-of-the-moment evaluation appears to be on target, although the Andover kids might argue the "second best" tag and would probably like another shot at Chelmsford.

Last Friday night at Lovely Field, the Golden Warriors made it look easy as they dismantled Tewksbury 14-0.

Quarterback Pat Finn, hard-charging halfback Dave Tucker, and a swarming defense combined to raise Andover's record to 2-1-0 while producing the club's second consecutive shutout.

Finn scored the first TD of his varsity career on a one-yard sneak, pitched a six-yard touchdown pass to athletic wide receiver John Thompson who made a spectacular one-handed grab in the end zone, and completed 11-of-19 passes for 101 yards.

Tucker, running as tough as any Andover back in recent memory, piled up 97 yards in 18 carries and would have hit the coveted 100-yard mark had he not been nailed for a five-yard loss early in the second period.

The defense, which limited a weaker Billerica crew to four first downs and eight yards total offense the week before, held usually-explosive Tewksbury to just six first downs, 53 yards rushing and 89 yards passing on 8-of-30 through the air.

Andover forced six turnovers, two fumbles and four interceptions, and made life miserable for three Redmen throwers by forcing them to release the ball early on many occasions.

Curt Soloman picked off two passes in the last three minutes, when Tewksbury was desperate, and tossed in a 31-yard return after the second theft on the game's final play.

Senior linebacker Joe Licata set up the first TD with an interception and 25-yard return to the Tewksbury one yard line, and Glen Driscoll had the other swipe.

Brian Donnellan and Peter "Deegs" Reming contributed the fumble recoveries, both in the first quarter. Reming's came on a kickoff return as he produced an excellent game on special teams.

Adding outstanding defensive efforts were junior lineman Joe Marinaro, sophomore lineman Erik Greenstein, Ryan Beal, Stefan Fodor, Hunter Lochmann, Dave Tucker and Dave Blank.

Lochmann had the Warriors' lone sack midway through the final period.

The defense also had some luck, as twice Tewksbury receivers broke well into the clear but couldn't come up with the long passes.

The first time, on just the third play of the game, Tim Lightfoot was open by at least 10 yards but the wobbly toss was overthrown.

Late in the first half, during Tewksbury's most serious threat, a fourth-down bullet to Sean Mackey glanced off his fingertips as he dove in the endzone.

Collins Pleased
Coach Collins was obviously satisfied with the performance, but emphasized that it wasn't quite as easy as it looked.

"Tewksbury came after us (defensively) with everything but the kitchen sink," he said. "In the second half we held an extra blocker in to give (Finn) some extra time to find his receivers. We felt we could throw on them if Pat had time to get the ball off."

The quick and often-underrated Redmen defense did register four sacks and forced a pair of AHS turnovers.

"Dave Tucker ran very well tonight," continued Collins. "He busts in there (hits the holes) quickly, and at 195 pounds he isn't easy to bring down.

"We ran over Stefan Fodor (junior guard), Erik Greenstein (tackle) and our center, Ryan Beal, most of the time. We only went through one or two different spots the whole game."

"John Thompson made another fantastic catch on the touchdown. He's just an outstanding athlete."

Thompson, who finished with four catches for 47 yards and now has 12 receptions this season, is being heavily recruited by a number of local colleges including Boston College, which had a scout in the stands last Friday.

Collins credits defensive coordinator Joe Iarrobino with the tremendous play of that unit.

Few coaches are comfortable making comparisons, but Collins did admit thus far this defense ranks among the top five he's had in 31 years at Andover.

Turnovers Abound
The game started with a rash of turnovers, back-to-back fumbles preceding Joe Licata's key interception.

Andover fumbled the ball away near midfield on its first series. But two plays later Joe Marinaro put some serious heat on Tewksbury quarterback Kevin Merritt, forcing him to cough up the ball with Brian Donnellan recovering at the Redmen 29.

Tewksbury defensive end Jon Harvey immediately sacked Pat Finn for a nine-yard loss, and three plays later Andover punted the ball away.

Shortly thereafter intense Joe Licata stepped in front of a Merritt pass at the Tewksbury 26 yard line, picking it off and circling down the left sideline before being pulled down at the one-yard line.

Finn snuck over on the next play, and the talented toe of Albie Minichiello boomed the extra point through the uprights for a 7-0 Warriors' lead after 7½ minutes.

Tewksbury fumbled the ensuing kickoff, a thundering hit rocking the ball loose for Peter Reming to recover at the Redmen 44.

Andover moved down to the visitors' five-yard line in 11 plays, Finn completing a pair of passes to John Thompson for 21 and 15 yards to keep the drive alive. The 21-yarder came on third-and-8, while the 15-yarder was a fourth-and-13 play.

The offense stalled at this point, however, as Tucker was thrown for a five-yard loss, and a fourth-down pass to Thompson at the goal line was knocked away by Tewksbury linebacker Brian Brooks.

Midway through the second period Steve LaValle intercepted a Finn pass at the Tewksbury 30, returning the ball to midfield, but the Redmen couldn't capitalize.

Late in the half coach Bob Aylward's squad faked a fourth-down punt, with kicker Sean Wilson lofting a 25-yard pass to Sean Mackey instead at the Andover 11-yard line.

A very costly personal foul penalty after the play moved the offending Redmen back to the 26, from where they gained just three yards and had a fourth-down pass to the diving Mackey ricochet off his hands in the end zone.

Tucker Tough
Tewksbury's first possession of the second half produced a mini-threat, a 15-yard pass from sophomore backup QB Dana Boudreau to Tim Lightfoot helping advance the ball to the Andover 29 before three more passes went astray.

The Golden Warriors took over on downs and drove 71 yards in seven plays for their second touchdown.

Dave Tucker, who gained 73 of his 97 yards in the second half, carried five times during the march. Included were a clutch four-yard pickup in a third-and-3 situation, and a 36-yard up-the-middle power burst that carried to the Redmen six.

On second down Finn rolled to his left and flicked a short pass to 6'3", 190-pound John Thompson, who gathered the ball in with one hand for his second TD grab of the season.

Minichiello's fourth conversion kick in three games hiked the score to 14-0 with 22 seconds left in the third period.

Tewksbury surrendered on downs near midfield early in the final quarter, Andover's defensive line stuffing ball carrier Sean Conley for no gain on fourth-and-1.

A 12-yard run by Tucker, and 10-yard pass from Finn to Donnellan, brought the ball to the TMHS 28 where the drive sputtered.

Glen Driscoll's

interception and runback to the Redmen 18 eventually set up a 33-yard field goal try by Minichiello.

"I really thought he had it," said Collins after the game.

But the kick, which had the legs, was ruled wide to the right.

Wrapup

Andover finished with advantages in first downs (9-6), net yards rushing (89-53), yards passing (101-89), scrimmage plays (62-52) and total yardage from scrimmage (190-142).

The Golden Warriors cut back significantly on the penalty yardage, being whistled seven times for 45 yards. Three were for delay of the game.

Pat Finn punted five times for a 28.6 average, the longest kick a 39-yarder.

Brett Hammond caught five passes for 45 yards.

Andover has now outscored its three opponents by a healthy 40-19 margin.

Lowell Tomorrow
Andover chases its third consecutive victory tomorrow night when it travels to Lowell for a 7:30 p.m. game against the winless Red Raiders at Cawley Stadium.

Colts Top Redskins

The Central Colts raised their record to 2-0 with a hard fought 13-6 victory over the West Andover Redskins.

Joseph Cullinan of Regan Ford gives David Ferris keys to his prize car

Three weeks ago Dave and Joan Ferris of 15 Woburn St. entered the Regan Ford and TV-38, Red Sox Tenth-Player Award new-car give away on a whim.

"I figured, sure, why not fill out the entry form. I never expected to win. We've never won anything," said Mr. Ferris.

Last week, Mr. Ferris received a call telling him he had won the new 1990 Ford Thunderbird.

"I thought it was a joke, a prank call, and someone was pulling my leg," he said.

The caller reassured him it was no joke and that he really had won the new car. The next evening a nervous Mr. Ferris and his wife were the guests of Regan Ford and TV-38 at Fenway Park's Diamond Function Room.

"One of the coordinators joked, 'Relax, you'll only be seen by 25,000 people at the game and only 2 million watching on TV.'"

Golfers Down Methuen

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High varsity golf team is off to a good start this fall, with last week's 8-1 drubbing of Methuen.

That lifted the team's record to 3-2-0.

Other victories have come at the expense of Large School Division rivals Lowell (10-2) and Billerica (8½-3½), while the losses were to six-time defending Merrimack Valley Conference champ Haverhill (9-3) and Chelmsford (7½-4½).

Andover is a young team this year with four freshman, three of whom play regularly, one sophomore, two juniors and two seniors in the usual starting lineup.

The roster boasts two veteran lettermen, junior Sean Darwin and sophomore Jim Ofria, holding down the top two positions.

Darwin is 3-1-1 in head-to-head competition thus far, bowing only to Haverhill standout Bill Drohen and halving his match with Chelmsford's Phil Smith. Darwin has been AHS medalist several times this season and averages approximately 37 per nine-hole round.

Ofria is 3-2-0, having won three straight, and he is one of four Warrior players averaging approximately 39 strokes per round.

The next three positions belong to freshmen Justin Hesenius (3-1-1, 39.0), Jay Stella (2-2-0, 39.0) and Matt Pranka (3-2-0, 39.0).

Completing the starting roster are senior letterman and Co-Capt. Kevin Friel (0-2-2), senior Co-Capt. Sean Gill (2-2-0) and junior Mike Walsh (2-2-0).

Swimmer Hubbell Undefeated

By Rick Harrison

Junior Kristen Hubbell remained undefeated in the 100-yard backstroke, and sophomore Kasie Kearins qualified for the sectional diving competition next month.

But overall the Andover High girls' varsity swim team could manage only five first place finishes in a tough 88-84 Merrimack Valley Conference dual meet loss to Haverhill at the Greater Lawrence Regional pool last week.

The defeat left Coach Patty Barrett's crew at 1-2-0 overall, while Haverhill improved to 2-1-0.

The Lady Warriors return to the water tomorrow afternoon when they host MVC rival Westford Academy at Greater Lawrence.

Kristen Hubbell clocked 1:08.08 in her specialty, placed second in the 200-yard freestyle with an excellent 2:10.58 time, and swam a leg for the victorious 200 medley relay quartet (2:08.39).

Joining the versatile and talented Ms. Hubbell on the relay team were sophomore Michelle McCarthy, Tri-Capt. Erika Suduiko and Tri-Capt. Tracey Pool.

Suduiko exhibited a strong finishing kick en route to winning the 200 individual medley (2:32.28), and she also earned a second place in the 100 free (1:01.99).

McCarthy and Pool completed the list of winners, dominating the long and short of it as McCarthy won the 500-yard freestyle (5:57.41) and Pool the 50 free (28.02).

Sophomore Kasie Kearins took fourth place in diving (144 points) after winning the first two meets. Nevertheless her point total qualified her for the Sectional Championships next month at Haverhill.

Tri-Capt. Mia Kearins (152.50) and sophomore Sarah Faraci (145.95) were 2-3 in diving, and both need to score high just once more in six remaining meets to qualify for the Sectionals.

Andover's fourth second place finish went to the 400 freestyle relay four-some of junior Eliza Tilghman, senior Bryn McGovern, junior Allyson Bates and freshman Christine DerAnani (4:40.24).

Girls Give Up Just 2 Goals In 3 Games

By Rick Harrison

Anne Murnane, Erin Lynch and Kathy Doran had prolific weeks offensively, while the typically-stingy defense permitted just two goals in three games.

The nationally-ranked Andover High girls' varsity soccer team remained undefeated with lopsided romps over Lowell (5-0), Wilmington (7-1) and Tewksbury (4-1).

The Andover boys had a somewhat rougher time as they battled through a brutal three-game schedule, dropping a 2-1 decision to Small School Division leader Tewksbury, putting the first

Frosh, JV Undefeated

Steve Shepard bolted 81 yards with the second-half kickoff to spark the Andover freshman football team to a 12-8 victory over Tewksbury last weekend, and the Andover JVs scored early and often en route to a 54-0 rout of Billerica.

Those results left both the frosh and junior varsity teams at 2-0-0 overall.

The freshmen host Lowell, the only team to beat them last year, tomorrow afternoon at the Doherty Middle School field (3:30 p.m.).

The junior varsity, meanwhile, hosts Lowell next Monday at Lovely Field (3:30 p.m.). blemish on Large School leader Central Catholic's record with a 2-2 tie, and nipping Billerica 1-0 in the nightcap of a girls-boys doubleheader at Lovely Field.

Coach Dick Loschi's Lady Warriors remained perfect as they gun for a third straight Merrimack Valley Conference championship and a fifth league title in five years.

The Andover girls are 6-0-0 in MVC play, 7-0-0 overall, and they have outscored the opposition once again by a whopping 34-3 margin (32-3 in the league).

Junior forward Anne Murnane and senior midfielder Kathy Doran are the top two scorers in the MVC, Murnane with nine goals, five assists, 14 points and Doran with six goals, six assists, 12 points.

Senior goalie Nicole Ricci is the top goaltender once again, having yielded just one goal in four complete games and portions of three others.

The Andover boys are 4-2-1 in the Large School Division of the league, good enough for third behind Central Catholic and Chelmsford, while overall they are 4-3-1.

The girls began their second and final swing around the MVC last Tuesday night at Chelmsford; today they battle at Billerica; and a pair of non-league contest will precede the next league game Friday, Oct. 13, at home against Dracut.

The boys were at Wilmington last Tuesday, travel to Chelmsford tonight for a 7 p.m. arclight clash, and host Lawrence High Saturday morning at Lovely Field (10 a.m.).

JV and Freshmen The Andover JV girls' soccer team also remained unbeaten, 5-0-0, as it slugged Lowell 5-1 and blanked Tewksbury 3-0.

Bridget Murphy netted two goals against Lowell, while markswomen in the Tewksbury game were Catherine Cornell, Kristen Simko and Julie Connor.

The Andover

freshmen went to 1-2-2 after nipping Salem, N.H. 3-2 and bowing to North Andover, 2-0.

Harriers Swept By Chelmsford

By Rick Harrison

For the second week in a row captains Jon Bicknell and Michelle Toth were the first Andover runners across the finish line.

But the perennially-powerful Chelmsford High boys' and girls' cross country teams displayed greater depth as they earned a sweep of the Golden Warriors in Merrimack Valley Conference dual meets run over the 3-mile Chelmsford High course.

The Andover boys, 0-3-0, were beaten 18-44 while the AHS girls, 0-2-0, dropped a tough 27-30 decision.

Bicknell placed third for the second consecutive meet, his 15:49 clocking just 10 seconds behind individual race winner Steve Kelts (15:39) and two seconds off Chelmsford runner-up Jon Grange (15:47).

Chelmsford, 2-1-0, the defending state Division 1 champion and a six-time reigning MVC titlist with only two dual meet losses in seven years (both to Lowell), captured six of the first seven places.

Senior Tri-Capt. Scott O'Leary was the only other Andover harrier among the top 10, placing eighth overall in 16:29.

Rounding out the Golden Warrior scorers were junior Tim Parker (17:39), senior Dana Orlando (17:47) and junior Matt Orlando (17:57) who finished 13th, 14th and 15th respectively.

The Andover girls conceded the first three places to Chelmsford, then fell just short of winning the meet after sweeping the next five spots and six of the following seven.

Michelle Toth's 16:30 time, over a slightly shorter course, was fourth overall and well in arrears of CHS leaders Alicia Duff (15:32), Kerry White (15:33) and Becky Cox (15:34).

Freshman sensation Heather Holmander was fifth for Andover (16:39), Co-Capt. Katie Boness sixth (16:43), junior Maureen Mitchell seventh (17:04), sophomore Jen Ashlock eighth (17:16), and sophomore Heather McNemar 10th (17:37).

The Golden Warriors girls ran against Lawrence High yesterday, while the boys faced host Lawrence and Central Catholic in a tri-meet.

The first home meet of the season is next Wednesday when Tewksbury comes to town, and then Andover hits the road again the following Wednesday to run against thus-far undefeated Lowell High at the Red Raiders' Shedd Park course.

Junior Varsity

The Andover JV girls launched their season with a 27-30 conquest of Chelmsford last week.

Girls Still No. 2 In Volleyball

The Andover High girls' varsity volleyball team remained firmly entrenched in second place in the Large School Division of the Merrimack Valley Conference last week, surviving a rugged two-match stretch by splitting with undefeated Chelmsford and vastly-improved Haverhill.

The Lady Warriors had their three-match win streak snapped 2-0 by Chelmsford (6-0 record), dropping close 15-13 and 15-11 games, and then rebounded with a 2-0 sweep of Haverhill by equally tight 15-12 and 16-14 scores.

The split left Coach George Sullivan's squad at 4-2 overall and 17-9 the past two seasons.

Sullivan lauded the blocking efforts of seniors Cate Doherty, Kim Daley and Laura Hebeisen against Chelmsford.

Andover made all the big plays against a Haverhill (3-3) team that surprised by winning its first three matches, handing Dra-cut its only loss to date along the way.

The Lady Warriors sprinted to 6-1 and 11-3 leads in the first game before holding on for a 15-12 decision.

AHS also led 7-0 in the second game, then fell behind 14-11 before rallying to register the final five points for the overtime triumph.

Laura Hebeisen, Cate Doherty, Nicole Thompson and Grace Park were the And-over standouts.

Junior Varsity

The Andover JV volleyballers remained undefeated (6-0) atop the conference with duplicate 2-1 victories over previously-undefeated Chelmsford and Haverhill.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy M. Winn

Elder abuse has had a lot of coverage lately in television news specials and newspaper articles. Unfortunately, elder abuse exists in every community and Andover is not exempt from its horrors.

The staff at the Council on Aging can help victims of elder abuse. Elder abuse is a crime. We have received many calls of abuse which have been successfully resolved.

One elderly Andover woman who suffering from Alzheimer's disease was tied into a chair when her daughter left for work so she wouldn't wander. She was forced to go without food or drink and wallow in her own waste.

Another Andover resident, an elderly man, was locked in his bedroom every day by his daughter-in-law who didn't want to "deal" with him.

These horror stories are fact, not fiction, and help was found for each of these individuals. If you or someone you know is being abused, Massachusetts has an elder abuse hot line you can call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The toll free number is 1-800-922-2265.

Sometimes caretakers feel overwhelmed by the demands of caregiving. The Council on Aging staff can assist with the burden. Many programs and services are available to help keep a loved one safely at home.

The adult day care program at the senior center offers a full day of supervised activity, nutrition and health monitoring. Transportation to and from this program can be arranged.

Andover residents may call the Council on Aging to discuss services and programs and to receive counseling. Staff is available to help develop a caregiving plan and discuss the resources available.

In other news: The senior center and all town offices will be closed Monday, Oct. 9, in observance of the Columbus Day holiday. There will be no Weebus or shuttle bus service.

War On Drugs

According to United Way statistics, there are an estimated 52,000 drug abusers and 130,000 alcoholics in the Massachusetts Bay area. In Andover alone, there were more than 50 drug-related arrests in the past 18 months. The arrests ranged from the possession of marijuana to possession of cocaine and heroin with intent to distribute.

Most experts agree that to successfully attack the problem, both in the suburbs and the inner cities, a multi-faceted approach must be taken — a combination of education, treatment, support groups and stepped-up law enforcement.

"A national drug strategy is doomed," said Dr. Shaffer.

"What's needed is both local and community drug strategies."

Andover High School has initiated both peer and professional counseling programs for the last five years. At the school, where teachers and friends are able to identify marked behavioral changes, a confidential referral program has proven successful.

"The program has been extremely successful. We haven't had even one case where a student has abused the program and submitted a peer's name as a joke," said Brenda O'Brien, health education coordinator.

"What's most important after treatment is a social support mechanism," said Dr. Shaffer.

He said these include self-help groups, family support, peer counseling groups and religious groups.

Educational programs like the ones in place in the two Middle Schools have been effective in letting kids know the risks of taking drugs.

"Kids need to know that it is possible to stop using drugs once they have started," said Dr. Shaffer.

Some additional information on the issues of resources for youths: A local resource and youth services guide will be mailed to all Andover families with school-aged children. Included in the directory are services ranging from recreation and youth programs, public transportation agencies to counseling services for drug, alcohol, sexual and physical abuse problems.

Drugs

"In two weeks, the $1,000 was all gone," said Mrs. Johnson. "I know they didn't go out to eat all that often and I knew they weren't spending the money on clothes."

Mrs. Johnson feels that David reached the point where he just didn't care any more.

"I think he had gone so far that it was beyond the point of no return," she said.

The last 24 hours of David's life were a culmination of his out-of-control lifestyle of the past two decades. David and his girlfriend left Mrs. Johnson's home in the early afternoon for a day of motorcycle riding with another couple.

Mrs. Johnson said she expected the couple to come home for dinner, but they never showed up. She would later find out after days of questioning his girlfriend, that David died of a heroin overdose-induced heart attack.

"At first there were all kinds of lies. It took three days to finally get the whole story, the truth," she said.

David and his girlfriend had been drinking all afternoon and went to a Lawrence bar that evening. There David continued to drink hard alcohol. At the bar, the couple met up with a man they bought cocaine from, she said.

A group of people from the bar left with the man and went to a Lawrence home where they could get high, Mrs. Johnson said.

After the group had finished doing the cocaine, Mrs. Johnson said the heroin was brought out. David asked what the new stuff was and when the man told him it was heroin, he asked David if he would like to try some, she said. David told him he didn't have any more money, but the man said he would give him a 'freebie,' said Mrs. Johnson.

The man prepared the heroin and David's girlfriend protested that it was too much.

"According to Jan, the man said David (who was 6 foot 4) was a big boy and could take it," Mrs. Johnson said.

David, who was usually quick-tempered when he had been drinking, told Jan to shut up and mind her own business, said Mrs. Johnson.

The man injected the heroin into David's arm, said Mrs. Johnson.

"He had to be drunk to be able to do it (shoot the drug into his vein)," said Mrs. Johnson. "He was terrified of needles..." she said.

Mrs. Johnson said the partying went on all night until someone noticed that David was slumped over the kitchen chair.

"Nobody called the paramedics. They were all so high and nobody called the paramedics," said Mrs. Johnson.

"Drugs killed him," said Mrs. Johnson. "It made a monster out of him. It ruined his life. It ruined my life, and now I've got the same situation with Lori," she said.

Lori, like her brother, has had an alcohol and drug addiction problem. But, unlike her brother, Mrs. Johnson says she has been shooting cocaine for almost a decade.

"I've anticipated my daughter's death for the past ten years. She's been on drugs very heavily for the last ten years," said Mrs. Johnson.

During these years, Lori became a single mother. When her boyfriend learned of her pregnancy, he left Lori and moved to the West Coast, said Mrs. Johnson. She followed him to there, but she returned alone to cope with her pregnancy.

During the whole pregnancy, Mrs. Johnson says her daughter continued to use drugs. When her granddaughter, Melissa, was born Mrs. Johnson said she saw the effects of the drug use during the pregnancy.

"That little child had the shakes that come from drug withdrawal," said Mrs. Johnson.

After Melissa's birth, Lori lived with her mother. Lori insisted on breastfeeding the baby until one day Mrs. Johnson noticed the child's eyes were glazed over and she wasn't focusing on objects as she had previously.

"I didn't realize until David told me that the baby was getting high from the cocaine in Lori's body while she was nursing," she said.

Mrs. Johnson demanded the baby be placed on formula. One of many fights over how the baby would be raised followed and Lori took her child and left the house.

"For days I didn't hear from her and I didn't know if Melissa was OK," said Mrs. Johnson.

Lori did come back and eventually volunteered to allow her mother to raise Melissa, who is now 5 years old.

The tragedy of her brother's death seems to have opened Lori's eyes, said Mrs. Johnson. Though she has abused cocaine for almost a decade, Lori still holds down a job at a local industrial plant. She has recently moved into a nice apartment nearby and seems to be getting her life together, her mother said.

Recently, Mrs. Johnson was watching a TV news show about drugs with her granddaughter. On the screen flashed a picture of a person sniffing cocaine. Her granddaughter looked at her and said, "That's what killed Uncle David, isn't it."

"I was shocked a 5-year-old would know these things, but I'm going to be damn sure she doesn't forget," said Mrs. Johnson.

Collins Center

"In terms of compensation, we struggled with what would be fair," and decided on the $5,000 rental fee to the School Committee," said Mr. Salazar.

Gerald Cohen, chairman of the AEA board of trustees, told the Committee Tuesday night that AEA already pays a rent in the form of services it provides at no charge to the Committee. He cited the multi-thousand dollar salary the AEA pays to the facility's technical staff as well as the value of the equipment they purchase each year as AEA investments made for the benefit of the town.

Committee Chair, Margo Tilghman ended discussion after two hours and called for a motion concerning the conditions that could be agreed upon. They are that the:

- AEA submit quarterly and annual financial and usage reports to the School Committee.
- School Committee approve fee schedules for community usage of the theater with a corresponding appeal process.
- School Committee review the selection of contracted management staff by the AEA with recommendation for immediate, publicly advertised Activity Calendar of the Collins Center.

- Terms and condition upon dissolution of default of AEA.

"The AEA has done a reasonable job in managing the Collins Center for the past five years and the added guidelines can only help matters since some burden in making judgment calls is being placed on the School Committee where it rightfully belongs," the report summary read.

Some additional recommendations not included in the formal agreement included:

- Notice of AEA meetings be posted publicly and the public be allowed to attend such meeting.
- Community group definitions used in determining lower rental fees should require that only 50 percent of active participants be Andover-based.

Mr. Cohen said he was pleased with the results of the sub-committee's investigation and the final Committee vote.

"We (the AEA) have already begun to implement 95 percent of the recommendations," said Mr. Cohen.

Mr. Cohen was referring to the AEA's implementation of public meetings, an in-house evaluation of their present contract with API, and a new rental fee structure for community groups. The new fee would range approximately from $200 for each performance day and $100 for each rehearsal and non-performance day.

One of the first community groups to take advantage of the new rental fee will be the Andover Theatre Company, said Mr. Cohen. The ATC hopes to use the Collins Center for their January production of "The Music Man."

In other Committee news, the School Committee locked horns with a radio reporter.

Reporter Kristine Della Gatta, of WCCM-AM in Lawrence was asked to remain seated in the audience while tape-recording meeting events, rather than approach speakers.

"I'm just doing my job," said Ms. Della Gatta.

Committee Chair Margo Tilghman repeated the request, citing intrusion and meeting disruption as reasons. She was backed up by the other members of the Committee. Committeeman Richard Hubbell suggested the Committee contact the radio station the following day to establish procedure.

Ben Mevorach, WCCM-AM news director, said he is sensitive to local officials' needs to run their meeting's smoothly, but backs up his reporter's actions.

"A compromise can be made...but, I feel she was within her rights to gather sound in a manner she felt was most effective," he said.

"If (TV) channel 4, 5, or 7 had come in with cameras and cables and moved around to get shots, and then been asked not to get too close, they would have laughed in their (School committee's) faces," Mr. Mevorach said.
